

PAULO BENTO

Paulo holds a PhD in Management from The University of Manchester, in the United Kingdom. Currently, he is the President of INDEG-IUL ISCTE Executive Education and the Editor-in-chief of the Global Economics and Management Review. His research interests are in New Products and Services Development, Entrepreneurship and Small Businesses, Innovation Management, Business Strategy, Technology Strategy, Corporate Governance, Corporate Restructuring, and Mergers and Acquisitions.

Paulo joined the academia 2008 (ISCTE Business School), was sub-director of the Marketing, Strategy, and Operations Department, researcher at the Management Research Center, Editorial Board Member of the Economia Global e Gestão, and referee for the Revista Portuguesa e Brasileira de Gestão.

Previously, Paulo was a co-founder and CEO of for value, a consulting company that focuses on the strategy, management, and finance areas. Before becoming non-executive president, he was responsible for the strategy area, where he coordinated the launch, development and restructuring of several companies. He is also a former consultant of the Portuguese Central Bank, where he was involved in some of the main operations and transformations that occurred in the banking industry during the 90s.

He is also a guest speaker at relevant conferences and seminars throughout the country, is columnist for the Diário Económico and resident commentator for the Económico TV.

---