Sustainability Challenges in Tourism, Hospitality and Management

Thematic Session: Food Heritage, Cultures and Identities - a journey around the world

Proposals for this thematic session are welcome. Integrated in Tourism of Emotions, this theme can bring innovative discussions on Food Heritage regions (national and international) and the sustainable development of territories and promote the preservation of traditions and the collective memory. Research on this topic can contribute to:

- Ensuring the safeguarding and enhancement of territories' cultural, material and immaterial heritage;
- Creating differentiation on creative tourist experiences;
- Following global trends in the promotion of local cuisines;

2. The related subtopics

A- Food Heritage Universe

a.1 – Cultural markers, collective memory & identity symbols, as unique territories attributes;

a.2 – Food: nutrition, commensality and sociability;

B. Food Heritage & Creative Tourism

b.1 – Food Heritage promotion & communication Strategies;

b.2 – Storytelling around gastronomic heritage;

C. Food Heritage and Sustainable Development of Territories:

c.1 - Territories & Communities material and immaterial Food Heritage Expression;

c.2 - Short distribution chains & products certifications;

The interest in this “new” food heritage approach is related to individuals (community or visitors) needs, focusing on affective connections to past references (inheritance, practices, knowledge and flavours, symbols).

3. Researchers responsible for this thematic session

This proposal is the result a group of researchers (linked to the PhD in Food Heritage, Cultures and Identities at the University of Coimbra and to the Wine Tourism and Gastronomy fields), with an immense interest in disseminating this area of knowledge.
